

The AGM is where Boards and Executives of companies must be transparent and accountable

Summary:

Perpetual performs better than others so far during the 2020 virtual AGM season but still leaves some important questions unanswered. A great effort and report from our warriors Rita Mazalevskis & Craig Caulfield.

Perpetual Has Some Questions To Answer

Rita Mazalevskis: I have had four meetings with Perpetual since last year's AGM. The CEO, Rob Adams attended three of these meetings. I would like to acknowledge the CEO's personal commitment in managing my serious complaint, and arranging for my travel to Sydney, for our last meeting which went for six (6) hours. My complaint is outstanding.

Whilst the Chairman Tony D'Aloisio said every question submitted will be read out and responded to, and seven of mine were, there were several questions which were not read out, and several which were read out but not answered. The Chairman stated "not sure if appropriate and very detailed" and "a very complex legal question to be asked for an AGM" - questions raised, includes content from many bank victims. Despite the Chairman's comments, this is the precise forum that the Shareholders who are owners of the business, can discuss issues, including complex issues. Even if questions are detailed and complex, Shareholders and the public should be given the opportunity to listen in on all Shareholder questions in the AGM forum.

It is the one day a year that Shareholders can put critical questions to the Board about the management of the business. No question should be taken 'offline' as stated by Mr D'Aloisio, to address privately, away from the forum of the public AGM.

Craig Caulfield: Of the six virtual AGM's I've participated in to date Perpetual is clearly the best. From the outset the Chairman, Tony D'Aloisio announced that every question submitted will be read out and responded to by the Board. At the end of the day 10 of my 13 questions were read out and responded to. I did experience technical difficulties trying to register as the AGM online did not open at the time advertised.

Mr D'Aloisio provided feedback and update on the six issues I raised at last year's AGM. These included:

- adoption of Model Litigant Principles
- confirmation of no political donations by the company or employees
- they don't come under the Banking Executive Accountability Regime (BEAR)
- the APRA report only applied to their Superannuation division - Mr D'Aloisio said NO we won't publish it, I said "will you consider publishing a redacted version"?
- a good uptake of the Banking and Finance Oath by Directors and Executives
- Auditing conflicts of interest remain

In contrast to CBA, where every single one of my questions was withheld as they had a team 'triaging' my questions. Ultimately not a single question was read out. CBA continue their CoverUp - Perpetual had far greater transparency.

Like the Macquarie virtual AGM, why can't Shareholders call in by phone and ask their question DIRECTLY to the Chairman and the Board, instead of questions being 'triaged' by others. and read by someone else?

We're pretty sure COVID-19 does NOT travel across phone lines!

Chair, I'd like to thank the CEO Mr Adams who made a substantial effort in taking the time to personally meet with me face-to-face on four occasions regarding my serious complaints. Particularly one meeting which went for approximately six hours which both the CEO and Sally Arthur met with me. It was greatly appreciated. Rita Mazalevskis

Chair - I would like to thank all Directors for staying back after the AGM last year and meeting with shareholders. Unlike ANZ Directors who literally did a runner and did not make the time to personally acknowledge and speak to shareholders. Rita Mazalevskis

Chair, you said shareholders can participate in real time. The AGM Online Guide states- Note: We will endeavour to address as many of the more frequently raised relevant questions as possible during the course of the meeting. This is not aligned with s250 of the Corporations Act 2001. Please clarify and re-confirm ALL shareholder questions will be read. Rita Mazalevskis

Chair, in regards to my prior question re shareholder questions, the Corporations Act states - s250S- Questions and comments by members on company management at AGM (1) The chair of an AGM must allow a reasonable opportunity for the members as a whole at the meeting to ask questions about or make comments on the management of the company. (2) An offence based on subsection (1) is an offence of strict liability. NOTE: For strict liability, see section 6.1 of the Criminal Code.

Chair, Perpetual's Board Skills Matrix in the Corporate Governance Statement - shows the individual 'Skills and Background' as listed. This does not give the extent of experience for each Board member in the areas shown. Unlike the big banks, there is no scale showing the actual degree of skill set for each Board member. If I have missed this and there is a further Board Skills Matrix somewhere, could you please direct me where to find this. Rita Mazalevskis

Chairman, regarding your comments re my Perpetual case. Substantial delays have occurred due to roadblocks by Mr Adams, the so called independent report conducted IN-HOUSE is NOT independent. It is Perpetual reviewing Perpetual This is disingenuous. I continue to propose an external independent investigator chosen by myself. Mr Adams has also imposed restrictions on a full and fair Mediation I am require an internal independent investigation. Rita Mazalevskis

Chairman, without a Borrowers knowledge - is it true that Perpetual becomes the proprietor of the bundle which is securitised and then a green bond is created from carbon trading which then creates an enormous cash flow profit for an unknown third party. Rita Mazalevskis

I am really pleased to see Model Litigant Principles I raised at the 2019 AGM adopted and published. These will benefit your customers should a dispute arise. I would appreciate if Perpetual would engage with me to consider some amendments as ANZ, Westpac and NAB did? I applaud the Board on this fabulous reform

I raised the benefits of Perpetual promoting membership to the Banking and Finance Oath at last years AGM. I thank those 11 executives and Directors who joined including the Chairman & CEO since then. Mr McCarthy heading people and culture would be an ideal candidate to join. Will Mr McCarthy and the Director not a member please consider joining?

Please thank all Directors and executives for making themselves available to meet with shareholders after last years AGM finished. Perpetual did this very well and the Chairman, CEO & executives all stayed for every shareholder that wished to meet. This great culture stands in contrasts to ANZ where not a single Director met any shareholders waiting at the sandwiches. I applaud Perpetuals engagement and transparency
