Privacy Policy

Bank Reform Now has a strong commitment to protecting the privacy of all people with whom it comes into contact - whether via phone, website and email enquiry, online store orders, subscriptions, donations or under any other instruction. We are aware of the purpose of the Commonwealth of Australia's Privacy Amendment (Private Sector) Act 2000 and the New South Wales Privacy Act and it is our policy to meet the relevant requirements of each Act.

Contact Details
Bank Reform Now may collect names, phone numbers and postal addresses for the purposes of delivering products and items ordered or communications requested. You may be required to provide a postal address for delivery and other information pertinent to an e-commerce transaction – including donations, purchases or rewards. Any of your contact details that have been submitted through our website will not be sold or redistributed to any other party.

IP Addresses
Our technical staff may use your IP address to help diagnose problems with its own server, and to administer the website.

Email Addresses
Bank Reform Now does collect email addresses from site visitors who elect to opt-in to our newsletter, register for a website account, make donations, earn rewards, order products or make enquires. The newsletter email list is used to send you information, news, and details of offers associated with our campaign, products and services. Users may unsubscribe to future mailings at any time by following the instructions at the bottom of each emailed newsletter. Email addresses within webpage content are protected by various spam reduction measures and web user accounts details are not accessible or displayed publicly.

3rd Party Websites
This website contains links to other websites. Bank Reform Now is not responsible for the privacy practices nor the content of other websites. Visitors to this website should make themselves aware of the privacy and confidentiality policies of those sites to which links are provided.

Cookies
Cookies are small text files that a web server may ask your web browser to store on your computer. The cookies used by this website are associated with the provision of services such as web accounts, ecommerce transactions and website statistics either generated directly or via 3rd party servers.

If you have any questions about this privacy statement, the practices of this website, or your dealings with this website, you can contact us at any time.
